12-Week Sequence

Week 1: Foundation

Finalize collateral, secure referral form, CRM stages, scheduling link, and partner FAQ.

Week 2: Warm Network

Contact existing business relationships, Realtors, insurance agents, builders, and community partners.

Week 3: Loan Officer Prospecting

Build a local list and begin the 12-email sequence with personalized introductions.

Week 4: Educational Value

Publish a borrower-readiness checklist and invite partners to a short lunch-and-learn.

Week 5: Office Visits

Deliver folders or digital kits to selected brokerages and branch offices.

Week 6: Realtor Expansion

Launch the Realtor-specific sequence and co-branded buyer-readiness offer.

Week 7: Follow-Up

Call engaged contacts, answer objections, and schedule implementation meetings.

Week 8: Partner Onboarding

Complete partner profile, communication consent workflow, referral test, and co-brand setup.

Week 9: Community Visibility

Present a homebuyer-readiness workshop with a lender or Realtor partner.

Week 10: Proof and Process

Share anonymized process examples without promising outcomes or revealing client information.

Week 11: Pipeline Review

Review lead sources, meetings, referrals, conversion rates, and stalled opportunities.

Week 12: Optimize and Repeat

Improve messaging, retire weak channels, double down on productive partner segments, and begin the next cycle.

Partner Qualification Questions

- How often do applicants need additional credit preparation?

- What happens to applicants who are not currently approvable?
- What information may be shared with a referral partner, and what written consent is required?
- Who owns follow-up with the borrower?
- What turnaround and update cadence is useful?
- Does the company require vendor approval, compliance review, insurance, or a written agreement?
- Which marketing claims and co-branding rules apply to the lender's organization?
